Subject: Updated Information for Sony CCD Sensors Discontinuation (highly important)

As we informed last July, 22th February is the due date of the forecast submission (customer commitment for purchase) following Sony's CCD Sensors Discontinuation. Please see below for more information

Summary

Corresponding Model: Sony's CCD sensor adopted cameras

5Year Group Product=End of March 2020 Discontinued Model(Customer Liability)

10Year Group Product=End of March 2025 Discontinued Model(Customer Liability Not Yet Decided)

※Please see the next page for more information

Schedule :

22th Feb 2016 : Secondary forecast dead line

※Please send us your forecast including year base QTY, total QTY by 22th Feb

---

Remark

- Secondary forecast does not mean purchase order.
- Please let us know the quantity for year base and total number. We will secure the QTY per your request.
- ※QTY is subject to change by unexpected circumstances. We will contact you in that case.
- We will handle the QTY based on our customers forecast and provide you further information when the final year (year 2020 and 2025) comes. 10Year Group Product (End of March 2025 Discontinued Model) is now under discussion for the responsibility of the purchase commitment.
- We will try to keep supplying products for customers who do not submit forecast, but please be note that forecast submitted customers have a priority.

Thank you for your understanding in advance and Sentech will do our best for minimizing inconvenience of our customers.

Sentech is pursuing a longer and reliable supply of the products. We have over forty lineup of new cameras, adopted high sensitivity CMOS sensors, to replace the traditional CCD cameras. Also, we are under developing new cameras continuously while supplying discontinuation decided CCD cameras as long as possible.
